

Our Favorite NEW APP

When looking for the freshest local products, it pays to go straight to the source. That's where SOURCE Local Foods comes in. This Colorado-based company—started in 2011—distributes locally-grown and locally-processed products to consumers around the state. Think natural and organic meats, dairy items, and produce. SOURCE Local distributes products from local food producers to wholesale buyers like restaurants, grocery stores, and schools across Colorado. So what's in it for you? Check out the SOURCE the FOOD APP—a free, comprehensive directory of restaurants, farms, and stores that carry the locally-sourced foods and products you want. Available for the iPhone or Android, it's an easy way to stay informed about eating local.

SOURCE THE FOOD APP

